Association of Virtual Worlds

Mission Statement

The Association of Virtual Worlds believes that virtual worlds represent a major information and technological revolution in how we work, play and live. The Association mission is to serve those companies and individuals who are dedicated to the advancement of this multi-billion dollar global industry and reach out to those who have not yet found virtual worlds.

The Goals of the Association of Virtual Worlds are:

1. To create a forum for the discussion of issues affecting the industry
2. To assist in the development of industry procedures and standards
3. To promote the virtual worlds industry, its interest and developments
4. To educate on the benefits of virtual worlds to enhance work and play
5. To offer business and social networking opportunities
6. To connect the public and consumers with members of the virtual worlds industry
7. To participate in the determination of the collective interests of the industry
8. To further the common interests of the industry
9. To provide leadership for the betterment of the industry
10. To recognize accomplishment within the virtual worlds industry

About Our Global Ambassadors

Association of Virtual Worlds Launches Global Ambassador Program

As an industry association with a global reach, the Association of Virtual Worlds has launched a global ambassador program and has invited members from all corners of the world to serve as Global Ambassadors for their country or region of the 'physical world.' Global Ambassadors are recognized representatives of the AVW for purposes of raising public awareness concerning virtual worlds in their location and for purposes of informing AVW membership on items of interest happening in the Global Ambassador's location.

"The AVW is about outreach and education. Reaching out through our global membership to all corners of the physical world will allow the AVW to more quickly and efficiently, through the entire range of international perspectives, demonstrate the power of virtual worlds to bring people together, as if in person, despite distance." says Dave Elchoness, Executive Director.

What does a Global Ambassador do?

A Global Ambassador, in his or her 'physical' location, talks about the AVW, invites people to become members of the AVW, informs AVW leadership of media, sponsorship, events, and other opportunities for the AVW to spread its message in his or corner of the world. The Global Ambassador also posts, in a 'group' on the AVW's Business & Social Network, news concerning virtual worlds in his or her location and periodically blogs on virtual worlds related topics in his or her location of the world. The Global Ambassador, therefore, provides a service both to the community in his or her physical location and to existing members of the AVW.

"The response to this global outreach has been remarkable," adds Edita Kaye, Founder. "The first ambassadors are extraordinary leaders in the virtual worlds field and we are delighted to have them bring extend the reach of the industry across our real world...as well as our virtual worlds."

The Association of Virtual Words is a global industry association for the rapidly growing virtual worlds industry. It serves as a resource for those wishing to experiment and explore virtual worlds for work or play. The Association's mission is to educate, network, recruit, and further the membership's collective goals.

How long is the commitment? Each term is six months.

Nice Tech is a specialist Online Games/Virtual Worlds designer & developer based in the UK.

We are currently building a new world for BBC Worldwide and Ragdoll (makers of Teletubbies) for the latter's latest IP Tronji.

The world is being built using AliceServer, our breakthrough, "agent based" technology which takes an alternative approach to development and delivers significant commercial benefits: shorter development timescales, rapid prototyping, enhanced scalability and security, reduced budgets and greater networked user numbers.

Being based on biological principles the gameplay that results is truly emergent.
